in Fiscal and Economic Implications of the Colonial Policy of the Elder Pitt. By K. HOTBLACK, B.A., F.R.Hist.S. 8vo. 6s. net.

(4) Pros & Cons in the Great War.

By L. A. MAGNUS, LL.B. 404 closely-packed pages. 3s. 6d. net.

"Contains a vast amount of information digested from a great number of works. AN ALMOST INDISPENSABLE BOOK OF REFERENCE, the value of which is enhanced by a good index. The references are appended in each case, and great fairness is shown."—Daily Mail. "Epitomises a very extensive literature. Numerically following each accusation (set out as 'Pros') are given 'contra' facts, again taken from enemy sources, who are thus made to act as their own refutation. It is a work of great research, and invaluable as a précis of evidence and fact."—Scotsman.

INDUSTRIAL EFFICIENCY BOOKS.

(5) Practical Safety Methods and Devices.

By G. A. COWEE, E.M., S.B., Manager Bureau of Safety, Utica Mutual Compensation Insurance Corporation. With 128 large Illustrations of Safety Implements, &c. 444 pages, royal 8vo. 12s. 6d. net.

Industrial accidents cost America 35,000 human lives and over $500,000,000 annually; and other serious injuries total about 350,000 a year, minor accidents exceeding 2,000,000. The statistics in England are equally serious. This work describes the means—often most ingenious and easy to apply—adopted for minimising dangers. The subjects dealt with cover all the larger departments of the manufacturing and engineering industries.

G. BELL & SONS LTD.*A HISTORY OF SERBIA.

By Captain H. W. V. Temperley, M.A., F.R.H.S.,
Tutor in History and Fellow of Peterhouse,
Cambridge. Demy 8vo. 7s. 6d. net.

Captain Temperley's book is the result of many years' study and travel in the Balkans, and has three aims, (1) to present for the first time in English a fairly complete and scholarly account of the Serbian nation; (2) to show how the important strategical and geographical questions which are involved in the future of Serbia have been treated in the past; and (3) to put Serbia in its proper relation to Balkan problems and European policy. Extracts from unpublished documents will throw new light on these problems, and bring nearer to English readers a small nation whose history, character, and national feeling abound in tragic and dramatic interest. The book will also contain a very full bibliography of the subject.

GREEK IDEALS.

By C. Delisle Burns, Author of 'Political Ideals,' 'The Morality of Nations,' &c. Crown 8vo. 5s. net.

This is a study of Greek life and thought as an inheritance belonging to every man of intelligence. The leading idea is that the Greeks valued sociability most highly. This stands out among the various Greek conceptions of an admirable life and an ideal character. In so far as society was organized politically, Greeks admitted a law more flexible than ours, and an individual law less unsocial. Their literature and philosophy is referred to as indicating the heights to which Greek idealism could reach. Socrates is treated as the finest achievement of Athens, and Plato, the critic of Greek art and literature, is taken as the clearest exponent of nearly all that was best in Greek thought.

THE HOPE FOR SOCIETY,

And other Essays on Social Reconstruction after the War. By the Lord Bishop of Oxford, Mr. J. A. Hobson, Mr. Clutton Brock, Sir Hugh Bell, Mr. Christopher Turnor, Mr. C. R. Buxton, Miss Margaret Bondfield, Mrs. Pethick Lawrence, and others. Crown 8vo. 3s. net.

ENGLAND'S FIRST GREAT WAR MINISTER.

How Wolsey made a New Army and Navy, and organised the English Expedition to Artois and Flanders in 1513. And how things which happened then may inspire and guide us now. By Ernest Law. Demy 8vo. Illustrated. 6s. net.

Lord Cromer, writing in the Spectator: "Any work on the literature and history of the sixteenth century from the pen of Mr Ernest Law deserves the attention of the reading public. In a most interesting essay he has presented to his countrymen a picture of the statesman who for many long years guided the footsteps of Henry VIII. of a very different nature from that which has generally been accepted by the world at large."

BOOK-LOVERS' LIBRARY

IN order to meet the demands of our Library Subscribers we are compelled to purchase hundreds of copies of certain books by popular authors.

When the demand for these lessens, many are left on our hands, and, to be quite frank, we cannot find warehouse room for the number of such books which accumulate month by month. These books are well bound and in good condition, and at many of our branches there is a representative stock of them which may be inspected by customers.

Desiring that every purchaser shall be thoroughly satisfied that he is offered a bargain, we are willing to send any of the books mentioned in our "Book Bargains" Catalogue, (unless sold out) to any of our Library Branches for a prospective purchaser's approval.

We pay carriage on all books ordered to be sent to any one of our Library Branches to await the customer's collection, but all charges from the branch to customer's address must be defrayed by the customer.

Copies of this wonderful Clearance Sale Catalogue (awaited eagerly by thousands of patrons) may be had on application to any of our Library Branches or post free from the undermentioned address.
